Foreword.

May You live again,
Through the pages of
This book, the happiness,
Activity and pleasure
Of your school career . . .
Catch again the echo of
Hurrying footsteps . . .
The life and laughter,
The sunlight and shadow,
Of your most delightful
And profitable experience.

Dedication

To Justin A. H. Begue The Staff of the 1936 Rainbow dedicates this volume . . .

In sincere appreciation of his years of service to the Academy and Junior College. We shall always think of him as a brilliant in-memory to one of our comrades*

George Albert Traylor, Jr.

July 15, 1921 - - - - - December 20, 1935

A young man who exemplified in his daily living those sterling traits of character and manhood of which Great Men are made. His academic record through three semesters of attendance at the Academy, unequalled by that of any other cadet, will serve for years to come as an inspiration to his classmates.

Your Library

One of the most beautiful rooms in your school building is your library. It is centrally located, has a seating capacity of eighty-eight, is well lighted, and is attractively decorated and equipped. In it is found your state flag, pictures and busts of some of your most beloved countrymen and other leaders, and trophies won by your athletic teams.

On the shelves are found books of every kind and description. There are books on almost every subject that you could possibly think about or want: biology and history, education and psychology, travel, science, vocations, recreations and hobbies, plays, useful and fine arts, and many volumes of adventure and romance. Many more new and interesting books have been added this year than ever before because of the library fee paid by each student.

A live and readable collection of books has been bought with your fees, so why not come in and use them for collateral, voluntary or professional reading? Always watch the bulletin boards for announcements of, and advertisements about, new up-to-date books that are being added.

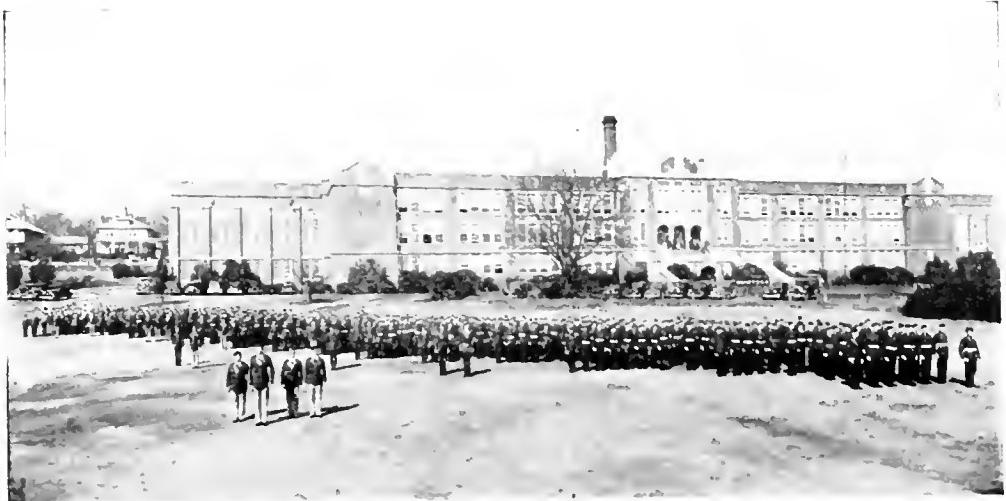

Your library wants to help you in your school work by teaching you where to find the information that you need for your studies and in your future work by creating in you a love and need of good books. It desires to give to you through reading a rich and varied experience and a strong motive for reading and a permanent interest in it. Therefore, "Be less concerned with the number of books you read, and more with the good use you make of them."

MARGARET BAILIE,
Librarian

The Colors

A primary purpose of education is to train men and women for positions of leadership and responsibility, both public and private, in war as well as in peace. May you fill your position in life as well as you have in our school.

SAM PURSWELL,
CAPTAIN OF INFANTRY,
P. M. S. AND T.

Self-respect, pride, confidence, and friendliness between individuals are important elements of discipline.

A man who has proper self-respect can never enter into degradation.

Discipline brings out the proper initiative and resourcefulness desired. It includes coercions and restraints, rewards and punishments, praise and censure, independence and subordination.

Rifle Team was winner of FIRST PLACE in the corps area championship in the National William Randolph Hearst match and THIRD PLACE in the corps area fifteen-man-team gallery rifle competition, and was designated to represent the corps area in the National Intercollegiate small-bore match.

In the Hearst five-man team match, Team Captain George Fuller scored a possible of 200, and Tom Baker scored 198 out of a possible of 200. This match is sponsored by Mr. William Randolph Hearst, who is an outstanding supporter of National Defense and the R.O.T.C. Every R.O.T.C. unit in the United States competes for honors in this match. In the Fourth Corps Area twenty-four senior units, nineteen units from the essentially military schools, and twenty-one junior units in high schools competed this year.

At the time the RAINBOW goes to press, the results of the National Intercollegiate small-bore match have not been announced.

THE 1936 RAINBOW is proud to recognize here the achievements in the field of rifle marksmanship of George Fuller, a member of our R.O.T.C. unit and captain of our rifle team.

His most prominent achievement, perhaps, was his capturing the Whistler Trophy, emblematic of national senior supremacy, at Camp Perry, Ohio, last summer. Recently, he scored a possible of 200 in leading our school team to victory in the National Hearst Trophy competition. His medals, trophies, and citations run into dozens.

George has brought national attention to our school and to our military unit, and we are proud of him.

Athletics

RICHARD BRINSLEY SHERIDAN, Jr.

In Memoriam

The memory of Richard Brinsley Sheridan, Jr. will always be held in close association with the character and manhood of Richmond Academy. Though the years may shadow the sadness of his passing, there is left for us an ideal—an ideal of Richmond men.

To those of us who knew and loved him, "Dick" Sheridan will always be the true student, the youthful athlete, the clean sportsman. His life inspires the emulation of all who are to follow. His years at Richmond Academy, which formed a large share of the years that were all too few, are the heritage of his school.

Since in life "Dick" was such an active force in shaping the destinies of his teams and his school, he is remembered here by his fellows; and their history, the following book of Athletics, is reverently dedicated to his memory.

Academy Stadium

The Spirit of Richmond Academy -- the Musketeer Spirit — lives in the gymnasium, on the football field, and in the hearts of men of Richmond County. This Spirit is the soul of our school, and as Musketeer teams go forth to win or lose there is awakened in all of us, who either play or watch, the spirit of pride and loyalty and love of our institution.

Athletics of today are recognized as essential to school life. They appeal to youth and through that appeal we believe that we at Richmond Academy and Junior College are helping to build character, manhood that is not afraid, and clean, square sportsmanship into the men and women of our community.

THE 1936 RAINBOW

Varsity Football, 1935

Football was ushered into this grid-starved country last September, and its reception was most cordial. The opening game against Washington resulted in an easy 40-0 victory for the Musketeers. Coach Luckey used every man on the squad during this game.

The next Saturday found the Purple and Gold matched with the Lanier Poets of Macon, the first G.I.A.A. team played. Tom Baker ran wild that day, aided by a hard-fighting line and back-field, to score two of four touchdowns. Jack Smith and Marvin McNair scored the other two. Lanier showed offensive power in scoring thrice. The final score was 26-19.

The Musketeers went on the road October 5, only to return defeated by a strong Gaffney team. "Mutt" Bearden furnished most of the fireworks for our side, but it was a losing battle from the beginning against the S. C. state champions. Gaffney won, 38-13.

The Musketeers again visited South Carolina the following Saturday and were held to a 7-7 tie score by a strong Spartanburg team. This game was a regular dog-eat-dog affair, with both teams playing brilliant defensive football. Finally, Spartanburg scored and kicked goal, but not to be outdone, the Cadets furnished Tom Baker with spectacular blocking as he returned a punt 65 yards to a touchdown late in the game.

The Purple and Golders returned home to meet G. M. A. and, despite the fact that the red team from College Park were strong favorites, won a highly satisfactory 20-0 victory. Bearden, Thompson, Baker, McNair, Smith, and Nelson shared the offensive honors, while Davis, Buck, and Young showed up well in the line.

In the next game the Musketeers broke a jinx of long standing when they defeated the Blue Jackets of Savannah High School, 7-0. After three scoreless quarters in which our boys threatened more than once, Baker hurled a short pass over the goal line to Curtis Nelson for the only score of the game. McNair, next year's captain, was injured in this game and lost for the remainder of the season.

The next week the Cadets played the Red Terrors of Glynn Academy, Brunswick, and defeated them in a close game, 14-13. Baker scored both touchdowns, while Bearden kicked both extra points. Thompson's kicking was a feature of this game, as it was of every game, while Ratterree acquitted himself well at center.

The following week the Musketeers played their first night game in Savannah against Benedictine College. The ball was carried over the Benedictine goal line more than once and was kept in enemy territory practically all the game, but several bad breaks and a series of questionable decisions on the part of the officials kept our team from registering an official score. Benedictine scored in the last quarter to win, 6-0.

Badly crippled, the Cadets entertained Columbia High here the following week-end and lost, 12-0, only after a valiant struggle. Buck was brilliant in this game—he broke through interference, made almost impossible tackles, and played slashingly on offense. Lackman, Sancken, Innman, and Baldowski rendered yeoman service in the line. The Cadets threatened twice but couldn't get over that last important line, the goal line.

The Homecoming game against Commercial High was played on the local field on Thanksgiving Day in a quagmire of mud. Commercial recovered a Richmond fumble for a touchdown early in the first quarter. Later in the game Thompson blocked a Commercial punt, which paved the way for Richmond's tally. Baker's broken-field running over uncertain ground was spectacular.

A post-season game here with Monroe A. and M. resulted in a decisive defeat for our boys, as the visitors passed brilliantly to score four touchdowns and win, 26-7. A. R. C. scored first, but could not stave off the visitors' relentless air attack.

On the All-Star team selected by "The Macon Telegraph," the Cadets placed Baker and Buck on the second team. Honorable Mention was given to Lackman, Innman, Young, Bearden, Thompson, and Nelson. The general consensus of opinion was that this year's team was the best team of the past five years. It was brilliant in victory and glorious in defeat.

"B" Varsity Football, 1935

Coach Charlie Royston's "Ramblers," after having not been scored upon during 1934, again enjoyed a successful season by winning four games from a six-game schedule.

The first game of the season, against Graniteville High School, resulted in a victory for Coach Charlie's proteges by a score of 12-0. The "Ramblers" threatened to score several times before touchdowns were pushed over by Smith and Bobby Baker.

The heart-breaking defeat that the "B" Varsity sustained in the second game of the season marked its first loss in about ten games. In the closing moments of the game, after both teams had played a steady brand of defensive football, Langley-Bath blocked a punt, which was scooped up by a visiting player and carried to a touchdown.

The third game was against Wrens High School and resulted in a 19-2 victory for our boys. After the visitors had scored a safety, Coach Charlie's boys put on the offensive heat and Robinson and Smith registered three touchdowns.

North Augusta High School was defeated in the fourth game of the season. The victory was achieved, 13-0, after the visiting aggregation from across the river had put up a valiant fight. The high light of the game was Robinson's run of 90 yards for a touchdown. The other score was made by Smith.

The "Ramblers" showed their best offensive of the season in the game with Louisville High School, which was placed in the won column by a score of 21-12. Baker, Smith, and "Peg" Robinson were the offensive stand-outs, while Griffin and Marvin Woodward played good games in the forward wall.

The last game of the season resulted in a decisive defeat for the "Ramblers." The game, which was played against Waynesboro High School in Waynesboro, furnished an opposition stronger than any other our boys had encountered. Three or four times our boys were in scoring position but lacked the final push to carry it over. The final score was 21-0.

Prospects are good for the coming season.

GYMNASIUM

Dear Lord, in the battle which goes on through life,

I ask but a field that is fair;

The chance that is equal with all in the strife,

The chance but to do and dare,

And if I should win, may I win by the code,

With my faith and courage held high;

And if I should fail, may I stand by the road,

And cheer as the winners go by.

A. R. C. Basketball, 1936

The A. R. C. basketball team, under the tutelage of Coach Charlie Royston, began its season under a severe handicap, since only two letter men had returned from the previous year. Nevertheless, the members of the squad set to work in earnest and, as a result, were rewarded with a successful season.

After a short practice period, the Musketeers played Harlem in the local gymnasium and were defeated in a close game. Our boys won the next two games, defeating Wrens and Washington by sizeable scores.

Their first road trip, which carried them to Athens and Atlanta, was hardly a success. The game against Athens High School was nip and tuck all the way, and our boys lost out only after Athens had put on a winning spurt in the last few minutes of play. The following night in Atlanta, Boys High, which had one of the best teams in the G. I. A. A., gave our boys a severe trouncing.

Determined to redeem themselves, the Musketeers returned home to defeat Columbia High in a very close game, 12-11. Exceptional guarding by both teams featured the play. Lady Luck smiled on our representatives again in their next game. Displaying their best passing of the season, they overcame Savannah High School in the last moments of play to win out by a single point in a second successive game, 23-22.

In their next game, which was played in Savannah against Benedictine, our boys were defeated, 31-23. In the second game against Savannah High School, Herbert Myers scintillated at center, but his brilliant play was not enough to stave off defeat, 36-27. In a return game, Benedictine was again the victor, despite the excellent all-round play of Captain Pearre.

John Lackman's close guarding and spectacular goal-shooting featured the victory of the Musketeers over Athens High School in a return game in our gymnasium. Lum Yee put the "Oriental Twist" on a couple of sensational shots from the sidelines to aid in a 29-18 victory. The Cadets were defeated on their return trip to Columbia, the Carolinians winning out by a score of 28-23.

In the G. I. A. A. tournament, which was held in Macon, our team was defeated in the first round by an old rival, Commercial High School, of Atlanta. Taking this defeat on the chin, the boys returned home, looking forward to next year.

J. C. A. Girls' Basketball, 1936

The 1936 edition of the Junior College Girls' Basketball Team enjoyed an unusually successful season. Twelve games were played; of these, eight were won by the Junior Collegians, one ended in a tie, and three were lost. The games that were lost were each decided by the margin of a single field goal, so that none of the losses was in the nature of a "beating."

Several of the games were especially exciting. In the Vidette game the Collegians gave their most spectacular exhibition of the year, chalking up 19 points before the opposition was able to register. Against the fine Young Harris College team the locals spotted the visitors a 15-point lead in the first quarter and then staged an up-hill fight that came within three points of victory and that kept the spectators on their feet every second of the last half. In the tie game with Evans, the lead changed hands six times in the last ten minutes, with the College Girls ringing the basket twice in the final minute to earn a tie. The high spot of the season, however, was the game with the Faculty. Such a game had never been played in this section of the state, and it attracted one of the big crowds of the year. The crowd more than received its money's worth as Martha Herman and Coach Bob Gressette ran each other ragged; as Colonel Hains valiantly but vainly tried to stop Edna Harrell's dead-eye goal shooting; as Dot Newman and Mr. Eubanks settled old scores; and as the College guards made life miserable for the Faculty forwards. The College Girls-Faculty game will undoubtedly become a fixture in the school's basketball program.

The only regrettable feature of the season was the cancellation of six games as the result of quarantines in Savannah and Charleston. Memminger and Armstrong Junior College were among the games that had to be postponed until next season.

During the season a total of 24 girls reported for practice, with 17 of the 24 staying out for the entire practice and playing period. Each of the girls played in at least three games, and as a result the entire squad was awarded letters at the end of the season. The brunt of the playing was done by Martha Herman, Edna Harrell, and Dot Lackman at Forward; Dot Newman and Elizabeth Howard at Center; and Vivienne O'Byrne, Ardene Mershon, Joyce Lawrence, Frances Gaines, Virginia Hayden, Nancy Florence, and Mat James at Guard.

Prospects for 1937 are good. Most of the forwards will graduate; among them are Martha Herman and Edna Harrell, who together accounted for 244 points during the season; but Dot Lackman will return for another year, as will Elizabeth Howard, who will be shifted from center to forward, thereby leaving center, with Dot Newman gone, the team's big question mark. At guard, the losses will be heavy, for the dependable Ardene Mershon will be hard to replace, as will Mat James and Dot Adams. However, Vivienne O'Byrne, Joyce Lawrence, Nancy Florence, Virginia Hayden, Frances Gaines, and Valerie Mandt will be back. Others who will return are: Mary Hightower, Louisa Willingham, and Ruth Waller, all of whom earned letters this year; and Virginia Gepfert and Ermine Cater, who were lost to the team this season because of injuries.

Basketball for the Junior College Girls is only three years old; but it has become a permanent part of the school's sports program. The 1936 team by its fine play and courageous fighting spirit has done much toward guaranteeing to the J. C. A. girls a part in the athletics of the College.

J. C. A. Golf Team, 1936

Losing practically the entire team of the preceding year, the Junior College golfers were compelled to start the season with a new and untested squad. A long round robin and a series of challenge matches resulted in Jack Jordan's winning the coveted No. 1 position, with Joe Stubb at No. 2, Sam Waller at No. 3, and Hamp Bryson at No. 4. "Peewee" Heffernan and Bobby Mills also made the squad.

A number of matches have been arranged for the team, but the outstanding event will be the team's participation in the Southern Intercollegiates to be held in Athens. This tournament, together with team matches that are to be played with Emory, Citadel, and Mercer, and with one or two other matches still to be arranged, will give the team one of the best schedules in the history of Junior College golf.

While inexperienced, the players have shown signs of real ability and it is confidently believed that the 1936 edition of the college golf team will fully uphold the great reputation established by the teams of the past four years and continue their long string of victories.

A. R. C. Golf Team, 1936

A good team and a good schedule—that is the whole story of Academy golf in 1936!

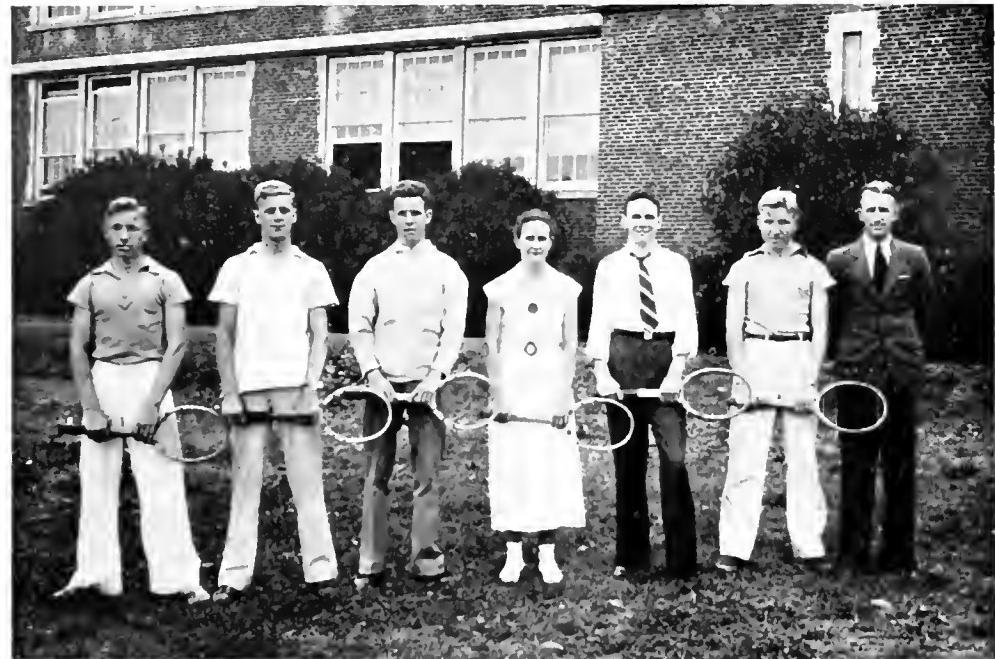

Returning a strong nucleus from the 1935 team, the A. R. C. golf squad has found several new players to bolster its ranks, and from all appearances it will continue to lick its opponents with all the regularity that has featured Academ' golf since the earliest days of the Mulherins, Zimmersmans, Staffords, Ogilvies, Sauls, Daniels, and Hummels. Already easy winners over Athens and Columbia, the team appears headed for a perfect season.

The team, in order of rank, is composed of Sam Graham, Earl Waller, Joe Ogilvie, and Charles Whaley. When the team plays more than the regular four men, Mulherin, Hill, Norvell, Sancken, and a number of other good golfers are ready to step in.

The first match of the year was against Athens, and the Academy boys breezed home to an 18 to 0 win. Joe Ogilvie, "last of the golfing Ogilvies," led the field with a brilliant 74 on a rain-soaked course. Sam Graham followed with a 78; while Waller and Whaley barely failed to break 80. Against Columbia all four men scored between 80 and 82 despite sand greens and heavy rain and won an 11½-6½ victory.

J. C. A. Tennis Team, 1936

For the first time in the history of the school, the J. C. A. tennis sharks are to have a chance to play regular matches. And, from all appearances, the team will give a powerful account of itself, despite the fact that only a few matches can be arranged for this first year of competition.

Bobby Glickert is the team's No. 1 man. Possessing a fine assortment of strokes and plenty of experience, he is expected to give his opponents a number of unpleasant afternoons. Charles Fortune will play at No. 2. His game is probably the soundest and steadiest of all the men of the team. Bill Kale will be at No. 3; and when he is right, Bill is hard to handle. The No. 4 place has not been cinched. It lies between Ardene Mershon, Dan McFadden, and Jack Fortune. If Ardene wins the place, it will mark the first time that a girl has played on one of the College teams other than a girls' team.

The two doubles teams are the strongest part of the squad. Glickert and Kale will probably play at the No. 1 position, with the two Fortunes at No. 2, although there is little to choose between the two. In addition, David Daley and Bill Heffernan are challenging for a place and will doubtless see plenty of service.

The schedule:

April 13	A. R. C., in Augusta
April 25	Armstrong Junior College, in Augusta
May 2	Wofford Freshmen, in Spartanburg
May 9	Armstrong Junior College, in Savannah

An effort is being made to secure several other matches. Whether they are secured or not, one thing is certain: J. C. A. tennis is here to stay. Watch the racquet wielders next year!

A. R. C. Tennis Team, 1936

With only "Wish" Redd returning from the fine 1935 tennis team, the Academy menmen faced a rather gloomy outlook for the 1936 season. But the unexpected happened and half a dozen "new" men suddenly developed into real tennis players, and the outlook not only brightened but became exceedingly bright.

Before the season opened, Redd had secured the No. 1 position with Frank Robinson at No. 2, Billy Calhoun at No. 3, and Herbert Stelling at No. 4. "Pop" Newman and Oma Wilhelm were the other two men to make the squad, and there is considerable reason to believe that either or both of them will break into the first four before the end of the year.

The team is as strong in the doubles as in the singles. Redd and Calhoun are the first team, and Robinson and Stelling constitute the second team.

The team opened the season with an easy victory over Benedictine, the final score being 5 to 1. Both doubles teams won their matches and Redd, Robinson, and Calhoun turned in victories in the singles. The second match, with the Junior College, ended in a 3-3 tie. The next two matches, with Columbia and with Benedictine, were rained out.

The schedule for the remainder of the year:

April 17.....	Savannah, in Augusta
April 24.....	Athens, in Athens
April 27.....	Benedictine, in Savannah
May 1.....	G. I. A., in Atlanta
May 9.....	Savannah, in Savannah

Other matches, with Columbia, Greenville, and Athens, have been arranged but the dates have not been announced.

THE 1936 RAINBOW

Winners of Tournaments, 1936

During the past five years every effort has been made to broaden the athletic program of the Academy and the Junior College in order that the greatest possible number of students might find some sport in which to participate. One of the features of this new plan of athletics has been the steady increase in the number of tennis and golf tournaments. During the past school year eleven tournaments have been held, and Coach Simpson announces that in 1936-37 this number will be increased to not less than fifteen, with the new tournaments being held in October and November.

From the standpoint of student interest the outstanding tournaments of the year were the Academy Tennis, the Academy Golf, and the Girls-Faculty Golf tournaments.

The Academy Tennis tournament was won by "Wish" Redd, who has been called by Vincent Richards "a player with wonderful possibilities." "Wish" gained the finals by victories over Oma Wilhelm, and Herbert Stelling; there he defeated Frank Robinson, who had advanced at the expense of "Pop" Newman and Billy Calhoun.

The Academy Golf tournament was topped by Earl Waller, who won out by defeating Charles Whaley in the finals. Waller also accounted for Max Hill and Joe Ogilvie, while Whaley won victories over Joe Mulherin and Sam Graham.

The Academy Tennis Doubles went to Redd and Calhoun, with Robinson and Stelling as runners-up. Long and Allen, and Nelson and Baker reached the semi-finals.

In the College, Bobby Glickert took the Tennis Tournament after a hard match with Charles Fortune. Glickert also defeated Jack Fortune and Bill Kale, while Charles Fortune beat Bill Heffernan and Hamp Bryson to reach the finals.

The J. C. A. Doubles and Golf tournaments were not played, due to the small number of entries.

In the Girls' tournaments Ardene Mershon won the tennis singles, and then paired with Dot Newman to win the doubles. Ruth Waller was victorious in the golf tournament. The three girls' tournaments attracted more than 70 players.

Two special tournaments were held, but due to weather conditions, could not be finished in time for the winners to be included in the RAINBOW. These two tournaments were the famous Girls-Faculty Golf tournaments, and the mixed doubles with the J. C. A. Boys and Girls as partners. Two Faculty golf tournaments are also in process of completion, with "Uncle Bill" Kennedy the favorite in the singles and with no favorites yet established in the Scotch Pairs melee.

J. C. A. Basketball League, 1936

The Junior College Basketball League, started three years ago, enjoyed its best season during the past winter as six teams played a full schedule of interesting games.

The season was divided into two parts, a regular schedule of twelve games, and a round robin of six games. The first series of games ended with the Gas House Gang in first place and the Lunch Room Roughnecks in second place. These two choice dispensers of legalized assault and battery were followed by the Hi-Y, supposed to be gentlemen, but decidedly not gentlemen; the Faculty, a gallant if somewhat rheumatic bunch of old men; the Football Varsity Five, whose blocking and tackling were features of the games; and the Pre-Law Club, whose vocabulary was the only respectable part of its play. The round robin ended in a no-decision, with the six teams too bruised and maimed to play off the several tie games. Both the Gas House and the Lunch Room laid claim to the championship title, but for the sake of humanity no effort was made to decide the argument.

The league produced a number of excellent players, among them Bryson, Gray, Thompson, Wilhelm, Fortune, Daley, and Stull. It also produced Skinner, Nowell, Coach Bob, Mr. Maden, McFaden, and Baker, who could dish out the punishment—but the less said about that bunch the better.

At the end of the season an All-Star Team was selected. The All-Stars were a real club, as is evidenced by the fact that they spanked the "B" Varsity, and then slaughtered the Varsity in two special post-season games. The caliber of their play points to a regular J. C. A. Varsity for 1937.

The following players made up the All-Star team:

Forwards—Bryson, Gray, Blum, Wilhelm,

Centers—Daley, Skinner,

Guards—Nowell, McFaden, C. Fortune, Stull, Thompson.

The rosters of the six regular league teams:

Faculty—Gressette, Ewing, Bolton, Simpson, Maden, Hains, DuPuis, Speth, Moore, Eubanks, Smith.

Gas House—McFaden, Antonakis, Fortune, Dixon, Mobley, Blum, Sweatt, Cooper.

Varsity Five—Inman, Thompson, Stull, Baker, Young, Saneken.

Hi-Y—Fortune, Daley, Glickert, Mills, Stull.

Lunch Room—Skinner, Kite, Nowell, Moss, Moran, Kitchens, Bryson, Gray, Cooper.

Pre-Law—Garrard, Jones, Garten, Popkin, Scott, Young, Hoover.

Chivalry

*The day's long past when shining knight
In coat of mail, with gleaming blade
And waving plume, rode forth with might
To prove his valor to a maid;*

*When height of manly aims was this:
His foe to hon'rably disarm,
And his reward? A hand to kiss
Of lady fair, with grace and charm.*

*And are we so unlike to-day
Those courtly ladies, valiant men?
Oh, is there not at least one way
To reconcile the now—and then?*

*Remember several months ago
A tournament of grimy boys,
Who fought most manfully their foe
To keep a ball—'mid gleeful noise.*

*And every day, it's very plain,
When all the men go out to drill
And all their strength and skill to train,
That modern sons are knightly still.*

*And is there not a gallery
Of damsels fair, all dainty clad?
And is it not a joy to see
Their efforts each to cheer a lad?*

*So knighthood still may be in flower,
And we may have, it seems to me,—
Without a single moat or tower—
Something akin to chivalry.*

Spring Fever

By J. A. HUNGERPILLER, JR.

Old Scroggs carefully wrapped the retort and replaced it on its rack. He reached for another, stopped, and tossed his towel on the lab. table instead. It was a careless movement for one so methodical as he. But Old Scroggs was sick today. Sick with a very common malady known as spring fever.

It was a sunshiny morning in early May, and outside the open window a mocking bird was lustily serenading the fair maid Spring. Old Scroggs strolled restlessly to the window and looked out at the new buds on the trees, the green shoots coming from the earth, the joyful flutterings of the birds.

"Two months ago," he mused, "it was all cold and bare. There were no birds, no buds, nothing. Nothing but the wind whistling through the naked branches of the trees. Look at it now. Everything is stirring, waking up—" A slow grin spread over his face. "Except human beings," he amended. "All the lads and co-eds struggle listlessly into class, and, immediately, as soon as the lecture begins, sink deeper into a sort of hypnotic stupor. The professors," he admitted to himself, "are no exception. Even Randerson, who came down here to Georgia so full of pep and energy, it's getting him also. At any rate, there is a powerful force in the air. That it affects plants and animals differently is of small consequence."

He picked up a clear flask, washed it, and placed it on the window ledge to dry. When the warm sun touched his hand he smiled. Old Scroggs liked to think that he and the sun were friends. Certainly they should be. He knew and respected the mighty power of that blazing world, and through this knowledge fame and fortune would soon be his. During the winter he had perfected a solar heater far superior to any in existence. Already, private construction companies had offered him up to $500,000 for exclusive rights to the heater, if it proved successful. As yet he had not taken out patent papers. He wanted to wait until he could finish and try out his model so that he could be sure that it was a success. His eye wandered over to his small desk where he kept his original plans under his watchful guard.

With a sigh Old Scroggs turned from the window, picked up a bottle labeled "Nitric Acid," and dusted it. As he worked he began to recite a few lines of his favorite poem.

There was a light step behind him, but Old Scroggs heard nothing until a bantering voice remarked: "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns—" Old Scroggs whirled and looked into the end of an automatic pistol.

"What do you want?" he asked the masked man behind the gun. It was Saturday morning. There were only a few other teachers in the building. He couldn't count on help from that source. It looked as if he would have to help himself, if any helping was done.

"What do you want?" mocked the bandit. "You know what I want, Fatty. Dig out the plans of that heater."

Old Scroggs turned, picked up a bottle labeled "Hydrogen Peroxide" and, wiping it, moved toward the window. "You better think a minute, son. You don't realize what—"

The bandit took a quick step and was beside Old Scroggs, who was pouring some of the liquid from the brown hydrogen peroxide bottle into the clear flask. "Listen, you old billygoat, you want to wrestle with a slug? Well, quit stalling and fork over those plans, or—"

"O. K., son," said Old Scroggs, jamming a stopper down into the white flask. "I'm licked." He set the flask in the sunlight and quickly moved to the desk.

"That's the way to step—" The bandit never finished his sentence. A roar like the explosion of a .45 sounded from the window behind him. He spun, snarling. Old Scroggs whipped up a paper-weight off the desk and swung hard—

The others came pouring in.

"What happened?"

"You hurt?"

"Yeah, we heard the explosion—"

"Hold on," said Old Scroggs. "I'll tell you all; just give me time."

When he finished, one of the teachers reached down and stripped the mask from the bandit's face.

"Well I'm—it's Norman Blackstone. He used to be a student here. He is the one that stuck up the First National and those people, making his getaway."

"How is he?" asked Old Scroggs.

The teacher thrust his hand beneath the bandit's shirt for a minute, then he took a mirror from the wall and held it in front of his lips. "He's kinda dead," he said softly.

"Well, serves him right," said one.

"Yeah, lucky you got him before he got you."

"I didn't get him," growled Old Scroggs. "Spring fever got him. If he had been awake he would have known what I was doing when I set that clear flask of Hydrogen Peroxide in the sun."

"Say, I don't know about that," said Professor Reed. "I, for one, didn't know that Hydrogen Peroxide explodes in the direct rays of the sun. Why should he?"

"Hell," said Old Scroggs, "I taught him Chemistry, didn't I?"

THE LONG RAINBOW

ASPIRATION

*Sandy hair and freckled nose,
Pershing cap and stubby toes,
Wide of eye, alert, he goes—
Sturdy Freshman.*

*More at ease, but yet carefree,
Mischievous, alive is he—
Small, but full of loyalty—
Impish Sophomore.*

*Taller now, and smooth af hair,
Gruff of voice and dressed with care.
Proud of strength, and bold to dare—
Haughty Junior.*

*Polished sabre, martial mien,
Glint of medals, leather sheen,
Heart and soul and judgment keen—
Manly Senior!*

TO "X"

*Quiet her voice, and quiet, too, her eyes,
And sweet her ways of daintiness and grace;
And sweet her laughter and her soft surprise,
And sweet the quiet beauty of her face.*

*And I, who am as one been born apart
From so much loveliness, forget to sigh—
And sing within the cloister of my heart
A hymn to Beauty, when she passes by!*

AFTERGLOW

*This, above all, we know,
This is apparent to men:
After a time we go—
Not how, nor where, nor when.*

*Only a moment the lark
Troubles the quiet dawn,
Then soars, and above the peak,
Wheeling, is gone.*

*But for a season the rose
Opens in fragrant bloom;
Then, when the summer goes—
Frost—and doom.*

*Yet, something there is that stays,
Something is left behind:
A scent in the garden ways,
An echo on the wind.*

SPECTRA

*Red brick of stadium,
Tan football,
Yellow of sunlight,
Green grass o'er all,
Blue of October sky,
Purple-clad team—
These make our Rainbow
A prismatic beam.*

"STUNT NIGHT"

The second annual presentation of "Stunt Night" under the auspices of the RAINBOW was very successful in two ways.

First, it showed that the RAINBOW staff was unselfishly working for the good of the student body. Every effort was made toward the production of a beautiful, clean, and enjoyable show. The Beauty Contest and Fashion Show, which introduced the program, far surpassed expectancies. The Junior College "beauties" paraded in front of a picturesque garden scene, while the school orchestra, in full regalia, furnished graceful waltz music. The second item of success was that the proceeds were sufficient to aid materially in the publication of this book.

The RAINBOW staff is deeply appreciative of the generous cooperation it received from all sides. Foremost among those who contributed to the outstanding success of "Stunt Night" are the many participants who freely gave most creditable exhibitions of their various talents. A debt of gratitude is also owed to J. B. White & Company and Mrs. Lombard Brinson for directing and supplying the dresses and scenery for the Fashion Show. Others from whom was received valuable assistance are the Houston Ice & Coal Company and Platt's Funeral Home. Lastly, but by no means last in importance, the RAINBOW staff expresses its appreciation to the many students and friends who supported the show by their enthusiastic attendance.

The show was directed by Alex Doremus, who acted as Master of Ceremonies.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE IN AMERICAN VULGATE

When things get so balled up that the people of a country have to cut loose from some other country and go on its own hook, without asking no permission from nobody, then they ought to let everybody know why they done it, so that everybody can see they are on the level, and not trying to put nothing over on nobody.

All we got to say on this proposition is this: first, you and me is good as anybody, and maybe a darn sight better; second, nobody ain't got no right to take away none of our rights; third, every man has got a right to live, to come and go as he pleases, and to have a good time however he likes, so long as he don't interfere with nobody else. That any government that don't give a man these rights ain't worth a dime; also, people ought to choose the kind of government they want themselves, and nobody else ought to have no say in the matter. That whenever any government don't do this, then the people have a right to can it and put in one that will take care of their interests. Of course, that don't mean having a revolution every day like them South American coons and the Bolsheviks, or every time some job-holder does something he ain't got no business to do. It is better to stand a little graft, etc., than to have revolutions all the time, like them coons and Bolsheviks, and any man that wasn't a anarchist or one of them I. W. W.'s would say the same. But when things get so bad that a man ain't hardly got no rights at all no more, but you might almost call him a slave, then everybody ought to get together and throw the grafters out, and put in new ones who won't carry on so high and steal so much, and then watch them. This is the proposition the people of these Colonies is up against, and they have got tired of it, and won't stand it no more. The administration of the present King, George III, has been rotten from the start, and when anybody kicked about it he always tried to get away with it by strong-arm work. Here is some of the rough stuff he has pulled:

He vetoed bills in the Legislature that everybody was in favor of, and hardly nobody was against.

He wouldn't allow no law to be passed without it was first put up to him, and then he stuck it in his pocket and let on he forgot about it, and didn't pay no attention to no kicks.

When people went to work and gone to him and asked him to put through a law about this or that, he gave them their choice; either they had to shut down the Legislature and let them pass it all by himself, or they couldn't have it at all.

He made the Legislature meet at one-horse tank-towns out in the alfalfa belt, so that hardly nobody could get there and most of the leaders would stay home and let him go to work and do things as he pleased.

Etc.

THE QUILTING PARTY

*Down at Deacon Jones' house
The girls they had a quilting,
Just for to show their handsome looks
And have a little jilting:*

*Deacon Jones' daughter Sal,
And Squire Wheeler's Mary,
And General Carter's youngest gal,
That looked just like a fairy.*

*Now while they all were whirling plates
And playing hunt the slipper,
Matilda Parsons went to get
Some cider in a dipper.*

*She started out but then she stopped
Just outside in the entry;
She gave a scream and stood stock still
Just like a frozen sentry.*

*We all ran out and there we saw
A-hugging like creation,
Miss Cartwright and Sam Jones, we saw,
A-kissing like temptation.*

*O such a laugh as we set up!
You never heard a finer,
Said I, "I reckon kissing's cheap;
Don't you, Miss Carolina?"*

*You should have seen Miss Cartwright blush
As if she had been painted.
She said she had the toothache and
In Samu'l's arms had fainted.*

*And now, young girls, I'll say to you:
When you go to a quiltmake,
Don't let the fellows hug and kiss,
Unless you have the toothache.*

— Sgt. Wm. C. McGee.

WHAT IS GOLF?

GOLF . . . is a form of work made expensive enough for business men to enjoy. It is what letter-carrying, ditch-digging, and carpet-beating would be if they all had to be performed on the same hot afternoon.

The game is played on carefully manicured grass, with little white balls and as many clubs as the player can afford. A golf course has eighteen holes, seventeen of which are unnecessary, and are put in to make the game harder. A "hole" is a tin cup in the center of a "green." A "green" is a small parcel of grass costing about $1.65 a blade, and usually located between a brook and a couple of apple trees, or a lot of "unfinished excavation."

The idea is to get the ball from a given point into each of the eighteen tin cups with the fewest number of strokes, and the greatest number of words. The ball must not be thrown, pushed, or carried. It must be propelled by about $200 worth of curious looking implements, especially designed to provoke the owner. Each implement has a specific purpose and ultimately some golfers get to know what that purpose is. (They are the exceptions.)

After the final, or eighteenth hole, the golfer adds up his score and stops when he reaches 87. He then has a shower, a Coca-Cola, sings "Sweet Adeline" with six or eight other liars, and calls it a perfect day.

A Teacher's Soliloquy

*I teach the trusting little tots
The things that they should know,
Painstakingly I shape their thoughts,
And watch their powers grow.
I guide each adolescent mind
In paths of rectitude,
I am their mentor, firm but kind,
The guardian of my brood.
My mission is a worthy one,
With pride my bosom swells,
But someday 'c'er my life is done,
I'll choke the darn dumb-bells.*

THE 1936 RAINBOW

Gold "R" Society

Founded April 19, 1931

To stimulate the interest of the student at the Academy of Richmond County in his school and to inspire and to insure recognition of such an interest, the following resolutions were respectfully submitted to the faculty and the student body by Mr. E. M. Allen:

1. That there shall be organized immediately an honor society at the Academy.
2. That the name of this society shall be The Gold Letter Society.
3. That the members shall be awarded gold letters as designation of the honor.
4. That each candidate for admission shall meet the approval of the Committee in regards to character.
5. That any student shall be eligible for this examination who shall have passed or earned forty points from the specified groups.
6. That at least ten points shall be earned in each of two groups and five in another. (These points are not to be made in the character group).
7. That there shall be five groupings of honors: Character, Scholarship, Military, Athletics, and School Activities.
8. That there shall be no regular meetings, but rather a simple initiation in chapel at the regular morning exercises.
9. That the members themselves shall conduct the initiation ceremonies.
10. That the society shall have the right to present any member to the faculty committee for dismissal from its body because of failure to live up to standards of the group headed as Character; such a member dropped must surrender his Gold "R."
11. That amendments to these resolutions shall come before the appointed committee of the faculty.
12. That the candidate must have reasonable success in his studies at the time of application.
13. That at least three points must be made in the scholastic group, and that at least five points must be made in School Activities.
14. That the points for honors shall be made according to a scale supplied by the Committee.

A student has many opportunities to show his ability. As many as fifteen points may be earned in one term in the scholastic group. These points are awarded for excellence in studies. The Student Activities Group includes such possibilities as being member or leader of various organizations. All boys who attain recognition in any of the school athletics are given points toward the necessary total. Credit may also be obtained by achievement of the rank of officer in the R. O. T. C.

Since the founding of the Society, Mr. Allen has devoted untiring efforts to its development and maintenance and has made it the outstanding honor organization of the Academy.

The purpose of RHO CHI is to bring together those students interested in the field of medicine in order to exchange ideas and to encourage the social contacts that make college life one of pleasant memories.

The current year marks the sixth anniversary of the organization. Many parties and dances have made it a socially successful year, and several lectures on medical subjects by the members and prominent men associated with medicine have made it as equally educational.

Here's a Tip For Canny Collegians

THE "Big Men on the Campus," in every prep school and college throughout America, are leading the way to emancipation from the adolescent thumb jerking, palsied flivver and other mossy transportation, swinging in steadily increasing numbers to Greyhound bus service. The most convenient, congenial, and enjoyable a travel dollar can buy . . . this service costs fewer of them than even gas and oil for a car. It's the ideal way to make summer vacation trips . . . to any point in the nation.

The 1936 Rainbow has been made possible through their support, for which the staff is deeply grateful.

Friends of Mine

ADIEU

If we cannot live forever in the happiness of school days and in dreams of the life to come, for we must pass from this sacred community of friendship into the great field of endeavor and accomplishment. If, when we have passed into this life, it should be a pleasure to turn the pages of the 1936 RUMBOW and think once again of the happy days we spent at J. R. C. and J. C. J., then the efforts of the staff of this volume will not have been in vain.
